Crash Kills Pair As Auto Skids On Way To Palestine

Louis Hansen, 51, service director of Kent, and his wife, Mrs. Virginia Hansen, 48, were killed in a collision Friday night between their car and a tractor-trailer truck on icy Route 14 southeast of Ravenna.

They were on their way to East Palestine to attend the wedding rehearsal for their son, Louis Hansen, and Miss Jane Widmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Widmer of New Waterford R. D.

Portage County sheriff's deputies said Hansen's car apparently went out of control on the icy pavement and collided with the truck.

The wedding party delayed the rehearsal for a while, awaiting Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, and then continued when they did not arrive.

The son did not learn of his parents' deaths until returning Miss Widmer to her home. They then called the Rev. Carl Duwey of the Grace Lutheran Church of East Palestine, who went to the Widmer home and married the couple. The wedding was to have been this afternoon at the church.

The newlyweds then left for Kent to make arrangements for the funeral.

Weirton, Steubenville Men Hurt In Collision

NEW CUMBERLAND—A Weirton motorist and one from Steubenville were injured about 1:30 a. m. today when their cars collided on icy Route 2 near the Kings Creek bridge.

Ted Binkoski, 40, of Weirton was listed in serious condition at Weirton General Hospital with lacerations of the right forearm and possible fractures of both knees.

Robert Williams, 28, of Steubenville, suffered abrasions of both legs and a laceration of the chin. He was treated and released. Williams told Weirton police he was traveling up a hill just beyond the bridge near Weirton when Binkoski's car skidded sideways and crashed into his.

4-Car Crash Occurs On Williamsport Hill

Two accidents caused by slippery highway conditions—one involving four cars—were investigated Friday night by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Edward Richards, 40, of Chester R. D. 1, Leon Bahm, 35, of Ashtabula, Betty Chrislip, 547 Lisbon Rd., Wellsville, and George Wilson, 21, of Sharon in a collision last night at 8:45 on the Williamsport hill.

Officers said cars of Richards, Mrs. Chrislip and Wilson were stuck on the hill in various positions. Bahm, traveling in the opposite direction, saw the woman's car on his side of the road and attempted to halt.

His car skidded, bumping the Richards car which slid into Wilson's car. Minor damage resulted to all officers said.

Otto Souder Jr., 33, of Columbiana, lost control of his car on Route 46 near New Waterford at 8 p. m. and struck some rural mailboxes, officers said.

Souder had started to pull around Donald Garrod, 26, of New Waterford R. D. 1, who was backing up in an attempt to free his car which was stuck along side the highway.

Minor damage resulted. A tank truck carrying a load of diesel oil overturned on Route 14 about two miles east of Columbiana, at 9:30 a. m. today. No one was injured. The patrol is investigating.

Area Roads Treacherous After Snow

Freezing Rain First Slickens Highways, Then Snow Comes

Another "Friday snow" left Tri-State District highways in treacherous condition today despite all-night cinderling by road crews in Columbiana, Hancock and Beaver Counties.

The fall measured an inch or less but it followed the freezing of afternoon rains as temperatures dipped nearly 25 degrees within a few hours in a new cold wave.

A light drizzle began about noon, the mercury fell below freezing about dusk, then the snowstorm moved in from the northwest, covering the icy surface of roads and streets.

It was the third "Friday snow" since Thanksgiving. Only Dec. 12 was without snow.

The cold wave that sent the mercury to 15 at 7 a. m. today, following an afternoon high of 41, apparently nipped further snow as only flurries are forecast through Sunday. It will continue cold with a high of 15 to 20 today and a low of 5 to 12 tonight.

Dam 8 at Newell had only three-quarters of an inch of snow and the State Highway Department garage at Leetonia reported about an inch, but it was just enough to compound slick driving conditions.

Ashing crews were sent out about 8 p. m. and they worked all night, returning to the roads this morning after a brief rest.

The cinders seemed of little help and traffic tieups were numerous, especially early last night, on hills and curves.

Even at mid-morning, driving conditions were reported "bad" on highways in Columbiana County, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol warned.

Only hills and curves have been ashed and the level stretches were covered with ice, officers said.

Officers said numerous calls of traffic tieups and ditched cars were received last night.

Traffic was halted for several hours on Route 45 between Lisbon and Salem due to stalled cars and icy hills. Major tieups also were reported on the hill north of Rogers, the Williamsport hill and the Cannons Mills hill.

Driving also was termed "treacherous" on Ohio valley highways, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville.

Numerous fender-bender accidents were reported last night and early today, along with several major traffic tieups on hills.

Traffic was moving today but very slowly. The curves and hills were ashed by the Jefferson County highway department crews but the straight-aways were a glare of ice, the patrol said.

The Pughtown garage of the West Virginia Road Commission reported a heavier snow, estimated at 2½ inches, but said the primary roads—Routes 30, 2, 22 and 66, were in "fairly good" condition after cinderling. The crews worked on the secondary roads this morning. They were snowcovered.

The Beaver County garage of the State Highway Department at Rochester advised motorists this morning to use extreme caution. All main roads were cinderling but remained icy in spots, the department said.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police, near Pittsburgh, also reported slippery. The Rochester Barracks reported roads in its area were snow covered and slippery.

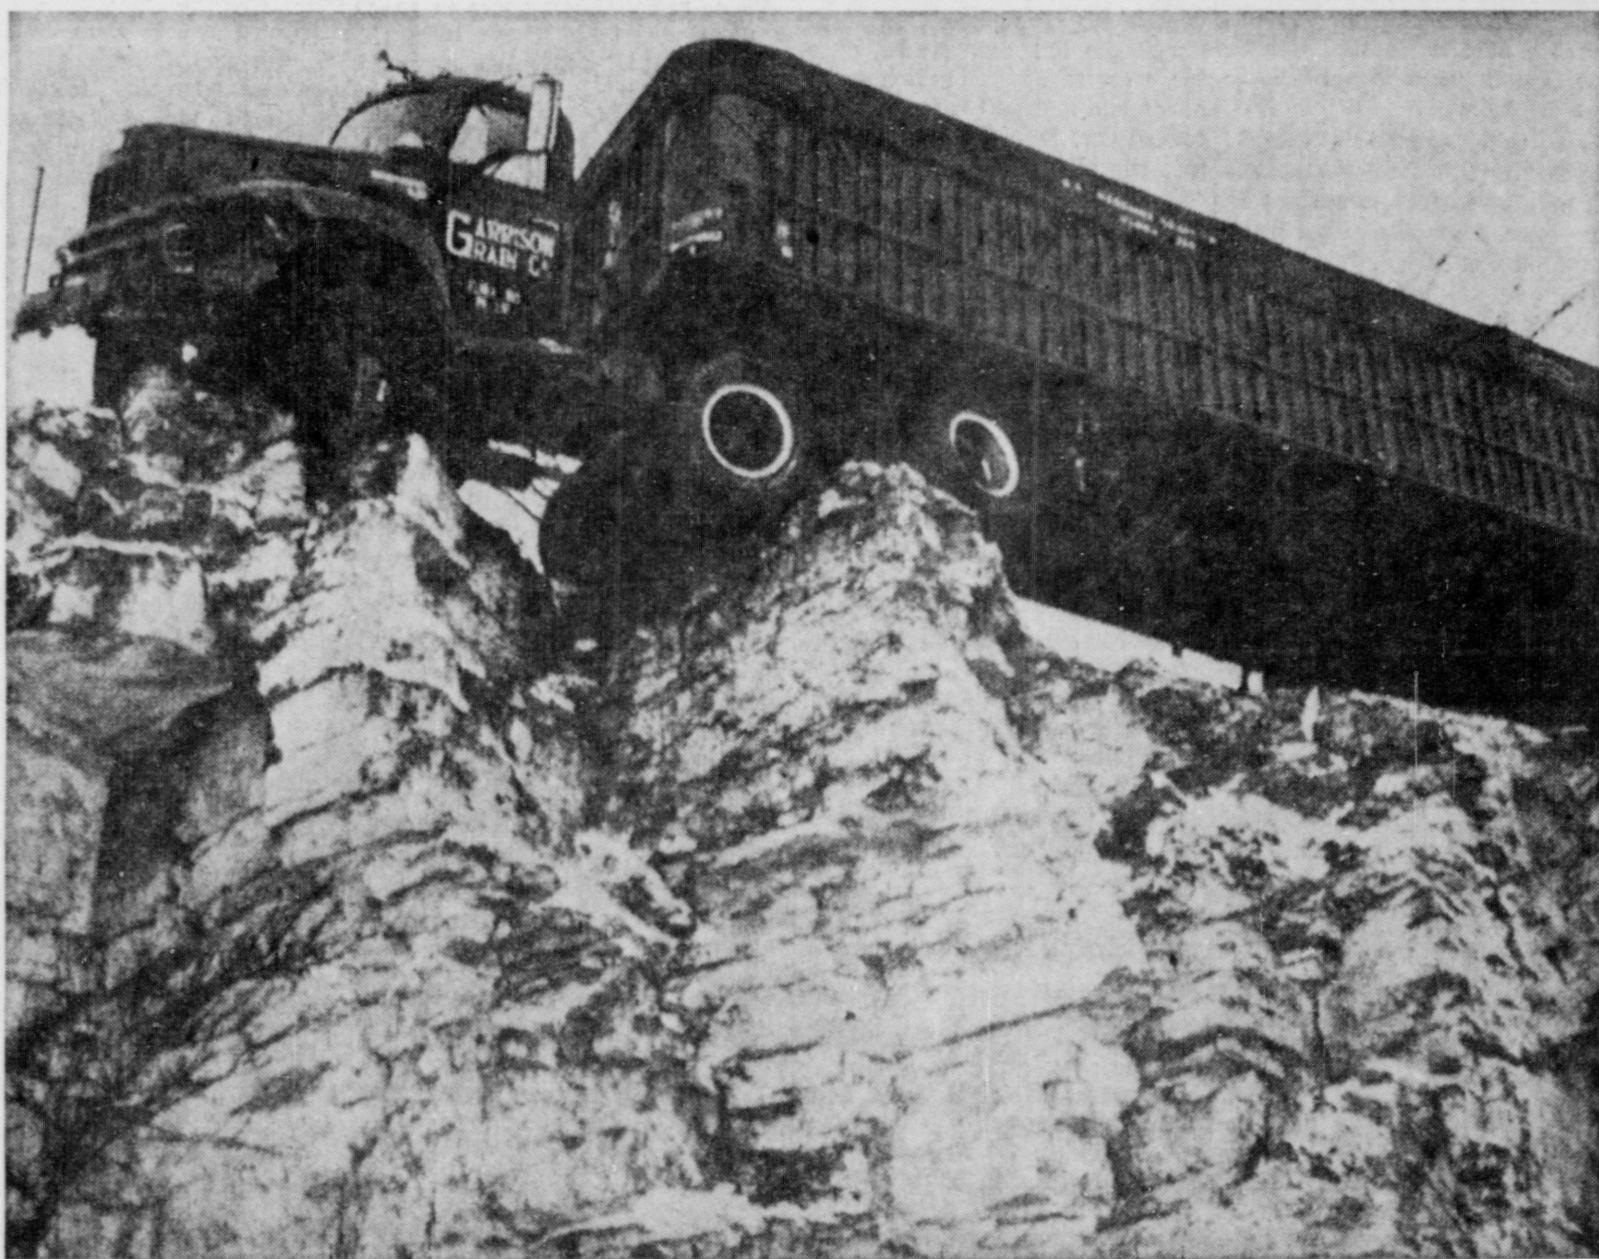

Three city street crews worked throughout the night cinderling and salting grades. Work continued this morning on downtown streets.

A rash of accidents was blamed on the ice and snow. Eight mishaps were blamed on slippery streets, including one in which a police cruiser was struck by a skidding contract mail truck. The fire department's emergency truck

HIGH OVER OLD STONE QUARRY. The first step would have been a long one if Charles Ziebarth, 40, Michigantown, Ind., had stepped out of the left hand door instead of the right. Following an accident with a car, his semi-truck skidded out of control and came to rest perched on the edge of an old stone quarry. The bottom is 80-feet straight down. Final Action On Decisions Due Dec. 29

7 Of New Firemen, Police And School Guards Would Stay

The city will be able to retain 7 of its 12 new firemen and police—at least through July 1 next year—which means that only 5 will be laid off Dec. 31, Council and administration spokesmen decided tentatively Friday night after a long study of last-minute figures on year-end fund balances for 1958, plus the fiscal outlook for early 1959.

Council and the administration also decided tentatively in a 3½-hour meeting that 10 adult school crossing guards scheduled for furlough, effective yesterday, will be retained until the end of the school year and a 10 per cent increase given all city employees in mid-1958 will be continued into 1959.

Legislation implementing the decisions, if they are made effective, will be enacted at a final special session of the year Monday, Dec. 29, Council agreed.

Two factors account for the additional revenue that will make it possible to retain most of the new employees added to the payroll last year, despite repeal of the city income tax at the Nov. 4 general election.

First, Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, said he received figures from the auditor's office at Lisbon yesterday afternoon indicating the city can expect $30,000 more for its general fund this year than was appropriated early in 1958. In addition, general fund revenue will be up about $37,000 more in 1959 because of a reduction in debt requirements for next year, he added.

Secondly, the general fund emerged in better shape at the end of the year because part of the financial load it generally bore was relieved this year with the new revenue from the city income tax, which produced more than $150,000 over its 6½-month life.

The report from the finance committee meant that Council was able to table legislation which would have cut the fire department back from 33 to 28 men and reduced the police department's personnel from 31 to 22. The officials decided to retain all three of the firemen who were scheduled for layoff. Although the department is authorized 33 men, it has 2 vacancies, making its actual strength 31.

Four of the 9 new policemen will be retained, cutting back the department to 26, which means that 5 still face furloughs Dec. 31.

Prepared for Council action was an ordinance cutting back both the police and fire departments to the personnel they had prior to enactment of the income tax May 1. Willshaw told Council the figures he received yesterday from Lisbon show the general fund income for 1958 to date stands at $446,020, an increase of $20,245 over the $426,775 that was anticipated at the first of the year. The total is expected to go to about $30,000 before the end of the year, as the figure he quoted does not include December revenue from parking meters and Municipal court, the councilman said.

The final settlements will show greater than anticipated income in two other funds, Willshaw said. In the garbage fund, $107,426 was anticipated at the first of 1958, but the income will total $113,320, an increase of $5,894, he said. In the street department, $119,516 was anticipated but $131,255 will be received, an increase of $11,739, he said.

Cunningham, Raimond Lose New Trial Bid

Sentencing Of 2 Set Jan. 5 But Defense Indicates Appeal

A motion for a new trial for Ira Cunningham and Jerry Raimond, convicted last month of a burglary of the Burbick Hardware store, was rejected Friday afternoon by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard at Lisbon, and defense counsel indicated an appeal will be filed.

Besides other alleged errors in the trial, which ended Nov. 21, the defense sought another trial because of an alibi reported by Raimond, ex-special officer, for the 1952 burglary.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, counsel for Cunningham, former policeman, and Raimond, said he planned to file a notice of appeal of the conviction with the District Court of Appeals.

Judge Buzzard slated sentencing of the two Jan. 5.

Atty. Alexander said the defendants would be in court then "if possible," apparently referring to Cunningham's illness. Recently released from a Wheeling hospital where he was a patient for two weeks, Cunningham was not at the hearing yesterday.

A motion for a new trial for Louis (Mike) Stutler, former officer convicted Dec. 11 of a 1954 burglary of the hardware, will be heard by Judge Buzzard Tuesday afternoon.

Three Children Perish In Cincinnati Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three small children died in a fire in their fourth floor apartment late Friday night. Their mother screamed helplessly, unable to reach them.

The victims were Joanne Dixon, 3, and her two brothers, Teddy, 2, and Casey, 1.

Slick Streets Cause Rash Of City Mishaps

Mail Trucker Cited In One Accident At Cruiser Crash Scene

Snow-slicked streets caused a rash of traffic accidents in East Liverpool, including one in which a mail truck skidded into a police cruiser that had stopped at the scene of another mishap on Broadway. A city motorist was charged with reckless driving after being involved in two other accidents in less than 10 minutes Friday night and early today.

Charles Emmett Davis of Ravenna also was cited on a reckless driving charge after his contract mail truck, owned by C. F. Waite, Inc., of Akron, skidded into a parked police cruiser and a sedan operated by Mary A. Bowers, 42, of 1818 Michigan Ave., which already had been involved in a collision police were investigating.

Patrolman William E. Nott said he had stopped the cruiser in the right lane of traffic on Broadway about 11 p. m. and had his red warning signal and spotlight in operation when Davis' truck hit him.

The cruiser was knocked to one side and Nott was thrown against the steering wheel. The truck continued down the grade and struck the front end of the Bowers' auto. There was about $100 damage to the right side of the 1958 cruiser, the officer estimated.

Davis told the officer he saw the red warning light on the cruiser.

Loblaw Strike Settled; Stores Reopen Monday

Two Loblaw super - markets here will reopen Monday after an agreement was reached Friday night ending a two - week strike by Teamsters Local 377 of Youngstown.

The markets were among 60 in the tri-state area closed when members of other unions observed the teamsters' picket lines.

The new three - year contract for teamsters' members provides hourly increases of 14 cents the first year, 11 cents the second and 10 cents the third. Previous wage scales were not disclosed.

Patrons were beginning to show concern because they were unable to redeem their premium and trade stamps for Christmas gifts but Santa apparently will come through next week, although tardily.

Atlas Broadcasts Tape-Recorded Words

'Talking Satellite' Ready To Voice Yule Message By President Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's pride of the heavens soared high around the world today ready to send anew a presidential yuletide message of good will.

Jubilant architects of the four-ton Atlas said it would be early afternoon before they decide about retriggering their talking satellite to broadcast tape-recorded words from President Eisenhower.

The next step, when the scientists figure they have enough initial data in hand, will be to erase the message and send up another to be released by remote control as Atlas continues its travels.

This second phase of the pioneering project promised to point the way to a revolution in communications — mass transmissions of sound and pictures to anywhere on earth through a satellite network.

And in the hours following Atlas' mighty blastoff from its Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching site Thursday night, statesmen assessed its boost to U.S. strength in the great East-West struggle.

Atlas struck another propaganda blow for this country at 3:15 p.m. Friday when, zipping at 17,000 m.p.h. over Cape Canaveral, it rebroadcast as scheduled a short Eisenhower message recorded Tuesday and carried aloft in the nose cone.

"This is the President of the United States speaking," came the dramatic playback of Eisenhower's voice through some static and fading as in the early days of shortwave.

"Through the marvels of scientific advance, my voice is coming to you from a satellite traveling in outer space.

"My message is a simple one. Through this unique means I convey to you and to all mankind America's wish for peace on earth and good will toward men everywhere."

Eisenhower himself joined reporters in the office of presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty to hear his voice on a Pentagon-supplied recording of the signal reaching Canaveral.

The President, in high spirits, fiddled with glasses in one hand as he listened intently. One sentence came through garbled "but it didn't hurt the message any," Eisenhower said. Hagerty supplied the full text.

Eisenhower said perhaps television-in-space would be the next astounding invention. He laughed when a newsmen suggested presidential news conferences might be held that way.

"Where would you people like to be then?" Eisenhower joked back.

The 85-foot Atlas was not expected to slip back into eyefield from the continental United States until this evening.

Roy Johnson, head of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, figured it would be afternoon by the time Atlas soared within range of four Army tracking stations across the South. These stations have the code equipment to trigger Atlas' tape recorder.

Johnson said it will be decided by then whether to touch off Eisenhower's pre-launching recording a few more times or go to the next step—erase and send up another message for playback.

The plan was to send back the same message for further use until after Christmas. Hagerty said Eisenhower personally wrote it but declined to state whose idea it was to send a presidential statement aloft.

ARPA scientists indicated they wanted more precise information on Atlas' travels before they try a new recording. They hoped for solid 72-hour orbit data sometime today which will allow accurate predictions of the satellite's future path during its estimated 20-day life.

As of latest word the east-bound Atlas was rounding the globe every 101 minutes, 14.4 times a day, at heights from 114 to 928 miles.

One quick effect of Atlas on the international situation was to strengthen the West's hand in the coming showdown with Russia over the future of Berlin.

West Virginia May Confront Ike With Woes

CHARLESTON (AP) — Efforts were being made today to put West Virginia's economic troubles before President Eisenhower and the nation.

The means would be a conference between members of the state Legislature and, along with the President, Vice President Nixon, House Speaker Say Rayburn and other members of Congress.

The conference was decided upon Friday when members of the Democrats' steering committees met in Charleston to start preparation of their legislative program.

Arrangements to set it up will be made through the state's congressmen.

Gov. Underwood offered his cooperation after a meeting with Senate President Ralph Bean of Moorefield and House Speaker Harry Pauley of Iaeger.

The troubles for which help and national attention will be sought were detailed through statistics on hard times here.

Military Communications Atlas Radio System Aims At New Worldwide Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new space communications system tested with President Eisenhower's Christmas message is designed ultimately to provide a new aid to the military services in worldwide communications.

David Young, space technology coordinator for the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, gave this account today in telling of plans to break current bottlenecks in long-distance communications.

ARPA directed the launching of the Atlas which is now orbiting high above the earth with tiny radios and a tape recorder aboard.

Young told a reporter that satellites would be used as space relay stations to transmit messages on high radio frequencies which can not be used in ordinary transoceanic long range radio transmission.

He indicated the system would also add vastly to the message capacity now offered on crowded oceanic cables.

The radio system consists of two devices each a little larger than an ordinary portable radio. Each can receive voice or telegraphic-type radio, store it on a tape recorder, then transmit it to a ground receiving station upon proper command.

Two devices are carried in case one should fail. Each was tuned to a slightly different wavelength.

Atlas will pick up only messages which are in a proper code, thus cutting out unwanted signals. Likewise special ground receivers are set to catch only such messages as are addressed to them in their particular codes.

Young said that at present the receiving stations are not placed ideally for a worldwide relay system. It would be ideal—and plans envision this—to have them all located near the equator.

Fumes Claim East End Man

Ray Mercer Expires From Asphyxiation

An East End man was dead on arrival at the Osteopathic Hospital this morning after he was found unconscious in his home, 12 hours after his wife was admitted to the same hospital with an illness.

Ray F. Mercer, 1209 Erie St., apparently died from asphyxiation after being overcome from carbon monoxide fumes from a gas heating stove authorities said. Coroner William Kolozsi of Salem is investigating.

Mr. Mercer was discovered by a laundryman who called police. Firemen took a resuscitator to the home and Mr. Mercer then was rushed to the hospital.

His wife, Pauline, was admitted to the hospital Friday night.

As firemen rushed the resuscitator to the home, the emergency truck skidded making the turn at E. 5th St. and Broadway and struck the left rear fender of a car operated by Ralph Holmes of Bloomfield and narrowly missed a parked car, Asst. Fire Chief David Anderson said.

The body was taken to the Dawson Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

er and the halted traffic but thought that he could make it down the grade. The mail truck was a Pittsburgh - Cleveland express which makes East Liverpool its only stop.

The chain of events started when Mrs. Bowers said her car started to slide as she headed down Broadway. She said she turned her car toward an alley, hoping to slide into it, when the right side of the car was struck by an auto driven by Robert Raymond Gallagher, 21, of 1025 Hazel St.

Gallagher told police he saw the car skidding but was unable to stop. Police said Broadway was a "solid sheet of ice."

Between $300 and $400 damage was caused to the Bowers' auto. There was no visible damage to the Gallagher auto, they said.

Robert B. Salsberry, 252 Baum St., forfeited a $31 bond on a reckless driving charge after being involved in two accidents early this morning.

Police said Salsberry was in an accident on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." about 1:08 a. m. but left before police arrived. After he was located in an East End bowling alley, police said they learned Salsberry had driven his car over an embankment on Central Ave. with a tree saving him a plunge into the Ohio River.

Officers said Salsberry was headed east on the "Hill Rd." when he slid into a car operated by Charles F. Brennenman, 49, of Shadyside Ave., damaging the left front end.

The front end of Salsberry's 1958 sedan was damaged. In the accident on Central Ave., the motorist told police he didn't realize where the road led until it was too late to stop.

A collision at 11:30 p. m. at Park Way and Monaca Sts. damaged a car driven by John O. Horner, 16, of Oakmont and a parked car owned by Monroe Williams, 1165 Pennsylvania Ave., police said. Horner was turning from Park Way onto Monaca St. when he slid into the Williams' auto, police said.

Gary Ray Calvert, 21, of 728 Bradshaw Ave. told police the rear of his 1955 sedan was damaged in a collision at 11:45 p. m. at Bradshaw Ave. and Walnut St.

Calvert said he had stopped for the traffic signal when struck in the rear by another motorist. The two drivers untangled their cars but the other man drove off without giving his name or address, he told police.

Cars operated by Perry Olen Gilson, 17, of 1156 Pennsylvania Ave. and Paul C. Gill, 29, of 1 Thompson Pl., were involved in a crash at 12:35 a. m. today at Pennsylvania and Oakland Aves., police were told.

Gilson said Gill cut in front of him and when he applied his brakes he slid into the Gill auto. Gill's car is owned by William R. Koon, 423 Grant St., police said.

Boyd Devore, 23, of 2111 Harvey Ave. told police his car skidded into the safety island at E. 6th St. and Broadway at 1:35 a. m. today as he was making a right turn.

Brian P. Kiernan, 20, of 613 W. 9th St. reported the front end of his sedan was damaged when it skidded into a stone wall at W. 9th and Chestnut Sts. at 9:40 p. m. Friday as he tried to avoid another skidding car.

A collision at 3:34 p. m. Friday at W. 5th and Golding Sts. involved cars operated by Donna Marie Hart, 16, of 1122 Ohio Ave., Midland, and Dominic T. Pucci, 712 Diamond St., Wellsville.

Robert F. Richardson, 1620 Eturia St., told police his car was damaged by a hit-skip motorist. He said a neighbor saw two men pull away in a car without lights. Ralph Lipps, 315 W. 5th St., told police his car was damaged by a hit-skip motorist while parked on Broadway near E. 3rd St. between 10 p. m. Friday and 1 a. m. today.

Edwin R. Simms, 53, of Hill Blvd. told police the entire right side of his car was damaged when he skidded into a utility pole at 2:38 a. m. today on St. Clair Ave. Simms said he started to slide when he applied his brakes after another motorist turned into a side street.

Pilots' Strike Shuts Airlines

American Grounded As Yule Rush Nears

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike by some 1,500 pilots today shut down American Airlines, grounding the second of the nation's major air carriers on the eve of the holiday travel rush.

The Air Line Pilots Assn. struck midnight Friday.

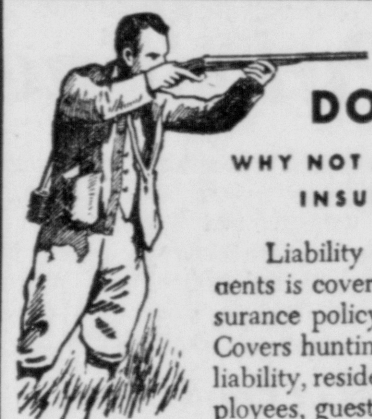

Negotiations here broke down with an ALPA spokesman's statement that "It looks like a long, hard strike."

Stemming from an 18-month dispute, the strike posed a handicap for Christmas travelers.

Eastern Air Lines flight engineers and machinists walked out over wage demands Nov. 24 and that line has been tied up 26 days.

An American Airlines spokesman said that as much as one-third of the nation's daily air travel was affected by the walk-outs at AA and EAL. American has a daily passenger load of 24,000 and claims to be the biggest carrier.

A pilots union official said in Chicago that "The strike could go on for as long as six months." He accused American of "extreme stubbornness," but an American spokesman termed the AA offer "the best in the industry."

Council O.K.'s $21,282 Extra Appropriation

Police Cruiser And Street Truck, Fire Hose To Be Bought

A year-end amended appropriation ordinance providing $21,282 was approved by Council at a special session Friday night, clearing the way for purchase of a new police cruiser and street truck, along with $2,500 worth of fire hose and replacement of the overhead doors at the police garage.

The ordinance allots a $2,500 appropriation for each of three items, purchase of the new cruiser, acquisition of 1,200 feet of 2½-inch fire hose and purchase of a new ¾-ton truck for the street department. Another $1,000 is provided for work on the doors at the police garage, which have not operated properly for many years.

Companion pieces of legislation authorize the administration to advertise for bids and enter into contracts to purchase the two vehicles and the fire hose.

The appropriation also provides: An additional $8,000 for poor relief; $2,182 for expenses in the income tax office; $1,000 for fire department motor maintenance and $1,600 for four police department items — $400 for incidentals, $600 for gas and oil, $500 for motor maintenance and $100 for photo supplies.

The ordinance was the regular year-end balancing of funds—taking unexpended balances from one place where they were not required and then appropriating them to some other purpose. In the process, money was transferred from 25 minor funds into the general fund, then ear-marked for the new expenditures.

For instance, if a department was allocated $100 at the beginning of 1958 for purchase of stationery and had spent only $25 the extra $75 was returned to the general fund, then appropriated again in last night's ordinance.

Five other pieces of legislation were enacted at the year-end meeting. Most had been held over since Monday night when Council

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

(Seeking the Hag to ask her to lift the spell over the professor's wife and save the fairies, Esteban travels to the moon in Santa's sleigh. He is met by an old, old man who says he is the Man in the Moon.)

CHAPTER 15

"The Man in the Moon!" cried Esteban. "I never really believed there was such a one!"

"Ah, yes," said the old, old man, stroking his long white beard. "I've lived here for over a thousand years. I have often been lonely for there is no other soul who lives on the moon save me. But here is a funny thing! I have never had a visitor until recently and now you are the second one to come!"

"Who was the other one?" asked Esteban eagerly.

"A beautiful woman," said the old man dreamily. "My very breath was taken away when I saw her and I could find no words to speak. Then it was too late for she hid herself in yonder cave and will not come out."

ALL IS LOST, thought Esteban in despair. This creature cannot be the Hangdog Hag for she is ugly beyond belief.

The Man in the Moon held up the staff he leaned on. "But I have this!" he said happily. "It is the stick she arrived on."

Esteban's heart leaped with joy. The stick was a broom with all the straws broken off and he knew it was the kind of a broom that hags and witches ride. Then he understood that, since the old man had not seen a woman in a thousand years, even the Hag looked beautiful to him.

"Take me to the cave where she hides!" he cried.

The old man gladly led Esteban to a cave in the hills.

"Old Hag, come out," shouted Esteban. "I have come all the way from the earth to have words with you."

Almost instantly the burning coal eyes of the Hangdog Hag peered from the cave. Snakes of fair encircled her head and fell to her scrawny, hunched shoulders.

"Are you really from the earth?" she quavered.

"I have flown here in Santa's sleigh just to see you," said Esteban. "For you placed a spell on the wife of Professor Szpiki so that she could never wake again."

THE HAG nodded. "She was so beautiful," she muttered with trembling lips. "And I am so ugly."

"The professor is brokenhearted. He has made a gas that he will release on Christmas Day. It will destroy you and every fairy creature on the earth."

The Hag cackled. "It will not destroy me. I am no longer on the earth."

"True. But your brothers and sisters and aunts and nephews—think of them! Oh, do break the spell and save Fairyland on earth!"

The Hag's long crooked teeth chewed on her lip. At last she said, "If I give you a powder that will break the spell will you take me back to earth with you in Santa's sleigh?"

Esteban's eyes grew wide with surprise.

"When I landed here," said the Hag, "my broom straws broke off my broom and I can never return to earth unless I go with you."

"Of course, you can come with me!" cried Esteban. "Only give me the powder and we'll leave at once!"

The old Hag fumbled in the folds of her black dress and drew forth a round tin box.

"Only cast a pinch of this powder on the eyes of the sleeping woman," she muttered, "and the woman will wake."

Esteban put the box in his pocket. "We must hurry," he said. "There is so little time left."

But as he and the Hag started away the Man in the Moon blocked their path.

"I am so sorry," he said. "I cannot let you go."

Ashes Blamed In Cellar Fire

Firemen Hampered By Smoke At Blaze

Hot ashes piled in a box set fire to the cellar of an East End home at 12:14 a. m. today, according to city firemen.

Firemen had to use Scott air packs to enter the cellar of the Robert Wilson home at 412 Elizabeth St. because of the dense smoke.

The ashes had burned through a box and spread to a pile of rubbish, including papers and lumber, firemen said. An investigation was made today as to the extent of the damage.

Firemen shut off the sprinkler system at the former American Paper Products Co. building at 3rd and Walnut Sts. Friday night at 7:45.

Firemen were called when the alarm on the outside of the building started sounding. It was the second time in two weeks that the system went into operation.

Water in the pipes apparently froze and broke the sprinkler heads, causing water to pour all over the inside, firemen said.

Lions And Santa Provide Cheer To 36 Youngsters

Happiness glowed on the faces of 36 underprivileged children when Santa Claus arrived at the Lions Club's annual Christmas party Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The merry old gentleman visited with the youngsters and distributed gifts of clothing and a toy to each child. Apples and a candy treat also were given.

Ernest Lowe led the singing of Christmas songs accompanied by Miss Mary Jane Putt. Donald Baxter, president, presided.

The party was directed by the three vice presidents — Charles Herman, Howard Tice and Victor Smith.

Baxter announced no meeting will be held Friday. The Board of Directors will meet Jan. 5.

Hammondsville Yule Fete To Be Monday

HAMMONDSVILLE — The annual community children's party will be sponsored by the American Legion Post 742 and auxiliary Monday night at 6:30 at the post home.

Santa Claus will distribute candy and fruit, and refreshments will be served, Lewis Workman, commander, and Mrs. Workman, auxiliary president, announced.

Motorist Fined

LISBON — Earl E. Knight, 34, of Elkton was fined $50 and costs Friday night by Mayor John Todd on a charge of using fictitious car plates. The mayor suspended $40 of the fine. Charles J. Lundy, 38, of Enon Valley forfeited $10 bond on speeding when he failed to appear for a hearing. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Hearing Set Wednesday In State Sales Tax Case

A hearing is scheduled Wednesday in Municipal Court on a civil action for $228.85 filed by the State Department of Taxation against the former operator of a St. Clair Ave. service station.

The state's petition identifies the defendant as Robert Thayer, 2808 St. Clair Ave. The law firm of Baughman & Bush of Wellsville represents the state.

The action lists two grounds under which the state seeks the judgment. It says Thayer was assessed $10 plus a 15 per cent penalty for a deficiency in his sales tax assessment for the period July 1-Dec. 31, 1955. In addition, he failed to file a sales tax return for the period from Aug. 1, 1957, to Feb. 5, 1958, and as a result the state made an additional assessment of $217.35, the petition says.

The state's petition says Thayer has not made payment, although notice of both assessments was served on him by registered mail.

4 Youths Penalized For Traffic Violations

LISBON — Traffic court hearings at the Courthouse have resulted in the suspension of driving permits of three motorists and the fining of another.

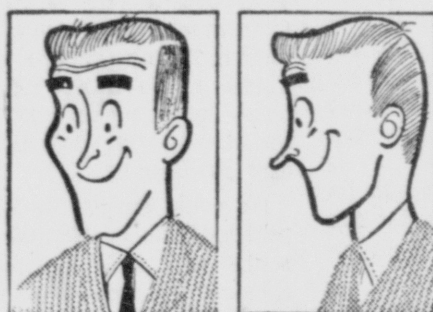

The permit of Ronald Ackerman, 16, of Salem was suspended for 60 days and that of William A. Wilson III, also 16, of East Liverpool R.D. 2 for 30 days, both for speeding.

That of Nicholas L. Musuraca, 17, of 2601 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, was suspended for 30 days for reckless operation.

Laird William O'Hanlon, 16, of 818 Cadmus St., East Liverpool, was fined $5 for unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Road Machine Dealer Claims Salineville Award 'Improper'

SALINEVILLE — A move to have been placed in the Review, and he did not learn of the bid opening until he read a news story about the impending contract award, and consequently was unable to submit a bid in time.

Councilmen Joseph Knight and Howard Merriman, who apparently agree with McCully's stand on the advertising, said Friday they plan to call a meeting of Council to restudy the matter. They said they would seek to have the bidding readvertised.

McCully, who said his bid was lower than that awarded, also claimed the specifications drawn for the bidding were applicable to only one type of maintainer. Such restriction, if made to eliminate competitive bidding, would be contrary to law, he said.

McCully said he considered the difficulty "the fault of the mayor, not Council's." He said he asked the mayor to call a meeting of Council to study the matter, and the mayor refused, reiterating his belief the action taken by Council was legal.

He said the advertising should have been placed in the Review, and he did not learn of the bid opening until he read a news story about the impending contract award, and consequently was unable to submit a bid in time.

McCully, who has retained an attorney, said the legal advertising for the bids was placed in a Lisbon newspaper which does not have a "general circulation" in Salineville, as required by state law for legal notice.

Competition Is The Spice Of Rocketry

The only thing wrong with international competition in rocketry is a fault it shares with international competition in yachting. The spectators don't understand the technical obscurities.

But they — we — can exult over the scoring of a triumph. The Atlas missile casing now in orbit around the earth is a triumph. It is at least as heavy and perhaps heavier than the combined weight of the Soviet Union's Sputnik III and its burned-out rocket casing, which stayed aloft from last May to early this December. But on the other hand, the newest U.S. Satellite, officially known as Score, will not stay up as long.

Its significance in U.S.-U.S.S.R. competition is the rocket thrust that matched and may have exceeded slightly the hitherto incredible thrust of the Russian rocket that hurled Sputnik III into orbit. The United States apparently has learned how to match the Russian engineers in rocket thrust. It now appears improbable the Russians are using atomic energy, as sometimes had been suspected. That will be the next big move.

SCIENTIFICALLY, the significance of Operation Score is the guidance system built into it and a two-way communication system needed for development of space exploration by manned missiles in years to come. Whether the Russian rocket designers are abreast or perhaps ahead of these developments is unknown and unknowable, if they choose to keep it that way.

From now on, competition to be first in outer space will be stepped up. So far, it lies between the United States and the Soviet Union. But in due time, every country with the resources to get into the game will be designing and firing rockets.

The Japanese are at work on rockets. The Chinese are busy. The Germans can be expected to show their usual mastery of all mechanistic problems. Italians should be good at the game, too. If the Chinese, with their historic fondness for pyrotechnics, ever get into competition, the air will be full of man-made thunderbolts.

This is not the prescribed, official way to think about rockets, of course. But spectators — and taxpayers — cannot be sure the pyrotechnicians all have the same point of view, either.

SOME OF THEM seem to feel it's all a warming-up exercise in military destruction, in case someone points a loaded rocket at them and pulls the trigger. Some stress the importance of sending a man to the Moon, and some stress the importance of sending all men to Oblivion.

To some it's science. To others it's a challenge, like a mountain to climb. And to all concerned and most of the spectators it has been turning into an Obsession.

That's probably the way it was with the yachtsmen who raced Columbia and Enterprise last fall. They weren't in solid agreement on what they were trying to prove, but they were of one mind about the importance of doing it to the fullest extent of their skill and their backers' pocketbooks.

The Whole Idea Of Christmas

This is the greatest single week of the year for most of Western civilization.

It is the climax of the Season of Hope. That is the whole idea of Christmas—Hope. Hope was the foundation stone of Christianity nearly 2,000 years old.

Before Christianity, Hope had been the only thing that sustained men through the lengthening hours of darkness as the winter solstice approached in the Northern Hemisphere.

Today, for hundreds of millions of human beings, Hope is a brightening light each year-end, a thing to share in commemoration of Christmas.

There can be no more heartfelt commemoration than to make certain that at least one life that would have remained in darkness is brightened, if only for a little while. That is the spirit of Christmas.

THAT IS THE special light that Christianity has radiated throughout the world—the Hope that can be given by man to man and that all men can draw from a common faith in a God symbolic of brotherly love and human dignity.

The calendar year has been divided up in many ways in an attempt to direct men's thoughts to particular purposes.

There are special days, weeks and even months. There are occasions to honor the living and the dead, events in history, ideas that promise to open new horizons to men and ideas that have led him out of the caves and canyons of antiquity to what men believe is an infinitely improvable world.

BUT OF THEM all, Christmas Week—the climax of a season that lasts from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day—is the most meaningful for the most people.

It is the time of the year when men come closest to understanding how all things might become possible if men could put Hope ahead of despair in their planning and substitute love for bitterness in their emotions.

That is the magic in the air at Christmas—the thing that makes all things seem possible.

A Little Of Each

The Highway Patrol reports that 10 school bus accidents have occurred in Columbiana County during the last three and a half months, compared with 15 during all of 1957.

The figures can't help but be disturbing. And since in half of the mishaps—according to patrol reports—the school bus drivers were believed to be at fault, much of the burden in correcting the situation automatically falls on them.

But common sense should place an equal share of the blame and burden on trucks, cars and other vehicles involved in the mishaps.

School buses are bigger than the average vehicle. Their bright colors set them apart. They operate at fixed hours—early in the morning, at noon and in the evening. Generally their runs follow a familiar route and are designated by loading and unloading signs along the highways.

Considered in its proper light, a cooperative effort is needed to reduce the accident rate during 1959.

Nikita: Let's take time out for a breather between words.

Hubert: That's a strange request to make of a Democratic senator with a 1960 election coming up.

Nikita: I've got another secret weapon.

Hubert: What is it?

Nikita: It's a missile for use on the fellow who told me you would begin to slow up after six or seven hours!

"Slacker!" declared the missus. "You're letting me bear the Christmas-card burden as usual." We argued we were busy.

"You're never busier than when I get out the holiday card list," she said, demanding, "Shall we send one to the Stookles?"

"Who are the Stookles?" we asked.

"I'm not sure, but we get one from them every year. I think we met them in an elevator in Quebec 30 years ago," said the wife, who by this time had decided to send one anyhow.

"How about Gideon Callibuster, your company's second vice president?"

"He hasn't been with the company for 10 years," we told her.

"We've been sending him a card every Yuletide," she said.

"That's your fault. By the way don't forget the Snodgrasses. They're very good friends."

"What's the full name and address?"

"It's either D. J. or T.W. Everybody calls him Chet and he lives either in Sioux City, Bangor or Key West."

"SHALL WE CUT OUT the Frisbies?"

"Why?" we asked.

"We've been sending cards to them ever since the first world war. I hate to drop people who have been strangers to us so long."

"What about the Gumblicks?" she asked.

"The couple your grandmother used to know?"

"No. These are the Gumblicks we inherited from your uncle's Christmas card list. They live in Indonesia."

"Let's cut out all friends who live in Indonesia, Tibet or Outer Mongolia," we suggested.

"There you go violating the true Yuletide spirit," said the missus.

This gave us a chance for our customary runoff powder. We assumed an injured mood and stomped into the cold night.

The Revolutionary War was the longest war in which the United States has engaged. It lasted 80 months.

The Power Of Faith

"And it came to pass as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another: Let us go even unto Bethlehem, and see this which has come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.
"And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe, lying in a manger."

T-Men Probe Tax-Exempt Groups

By Victor Riesel

Treasury men are deep in what may become the widest national probe since the 16th Amendment made the U.S. government the junior partner of us all.

Agents of the Internal Revenue Service quietly and methodically are checking some 600,000 men and women—all officials and employees of unions across the land.

This is no dragnet. This is no probe of labor. This is no effort to hook the hundreds of thousands of honest citizenry who draw their pay and expense accounts from labor organizations. It is one facet of a survey of all tax-exempt organizations.

But this steady check in the income tax bureau's 64 districts could eventually flush out every single four-flusher making a fast buck out of those unions invaded by the mobs.

Regardless of the union and its reputation, Treasury agents are questioning every expense item going back to January 1955.

Some of the unions which have already been sifted have had their '53 and '54 books checked.

This means that most union records will have been gone through for the period preceding the McClellan committee's smashing exposures—a period during which the hoods had no idea they needed to cover up their records. They all ran for cover towards the end of '56 and the beginning of '57.

YET THERE'S a long job ahead for the T-men. There are at least 485,000 union officials in some 70,000 locals belonging to almost 200 national and international unions. But they all will be checked. So will their employees—including the international organizers and executive office help.

All this came out of the Treasury Dept.'s realization that all tax exempt groups had grown like Topsy but a little turvy too.

There are actually 150,000 tax exempt organizations in the U.S. today.

And the Treasury has been receiving an average of 1,000 applications a month for tax exempt status from new outfits springing up all the time.

This seemed, at the very least, to call for some re-examination of the whole field of tax free units. There was no policy decision by former Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey or Secretary Robert Anderson.

There was no intention to single out any group—and certainly not the unions. Labor is just one of 16 narrow classifications, which, in turn, fall into six broader ones, that had to be looked into.

THIS MOVE developed long before the McClellan probe or other congressional investigations.

Actually it never was a drive launched at a given signal. Probes in the various regions were not coordinated at the beginning. But gradually many of the Internal Revenue Service's 10,000 to 11,000 income tax auditors began looking into outfits ranging over the fields of business, labor, fraternal, civic, religious and charitable organizations.

Chambers of Commerce, which are tax exempt, are being examined as well as unions.

With the need to close loopholes, the Treasury determined to find where some of the 150,000 tax exempt outfits may have abused their status.

Some abuses have been discovered. Action has been taken.

Naturally the exposures of the McClellan committee's counselor Robert Kennedy have been followed. But here too the agents have probed both the labor and industry witnesses involved.

Christmas In The Schools

By David Lawrence

Is The 'Law Of The Land' Being Violated?

Are the public-school authorities throughout the United States violating the "law of the land" by permitting Christmas celebrations during school hours?

Nine of the highest national organizations of the Jewish church have just issued a statement declaring that observance of religious festivals of religious kind in the public schools violates "the traditional American principle of separation of church and state."

But what is the "law of the land" and does the Constitution really forbid all religious teaching in the public schools?

The Supreme Court of the United States took it upon itself in 1948 to say that religious instruction during school hours, with each religion being given equal opportunity to hold its own services in separate sections of the same school buildings, is a violation of the Constitution.

Then the Supreme Court reversed itself in part in 1952 and said it is constitutional to release the children to go to religious classes during school hours provided these are carried on in other than public-school buildings.

UNDER THIS FORMULA those children who do not want any religious instruction are required to remain in the classrooms. This has been severely criticized as unequal but it is nevertheless the latest court ruling on the subject.

In New York City, moreover, attempts have been made to introduce into the public schools a joint celebration of Christmas and the Jewish "Festival of Lights," known as "Hanukah," as well as a combined observance of Easter and Passover. But the statement just issued by the Jewish national organizations deplores any such co-operative services as also a violation of "the conscience of many religious persons, Jews and Christians alike."

The statement recommends that students be permitted to refrain from any participation in religious holiday observances if they so desire.

This brings into the news a topic that has many other controversial aspects as well. The Constitution has only one sentence on the subject. It says: "Congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

When the Supreme Court forbade the use of public school buildings during school hours to permit religious instruction by teachers of different faiths to their own groups, was this a prohibition of the "free exercise" or religion?

Father Virgil C. Blum, professor of political science at Marquette University, is the author of a book, just out, entitled "Freedom of Choice in Education."

He has long advocated a certificate and tax-credit plan whereby parents would be given some form of subsidy out of local taxes to enable them to send their children to whatever schools they wish, so as to get whatever religious instruction they prefer.

HE DECLARES in his book that "the rights of parents who believe in the Christian or Jewish religion and think that it should be taught to their children in school are as fundamental as any other constitutional rights," he adds:

"Parents who demand for their children an education from which all mention of God has been dehydrated are within their rights under the Constitution. But, when government demands that all children conform to this established secular religion of the public schools as a condition for sharing in educational benefits, the children's religious liberty is seriously abridged. This alternative of the dilemma is totally unacceptable to parents of every religious belief who desire a God-centered education for their children."

The topic has a new significance nowadays, since the Supreme Court has become the "supreme school board" of the nation and decides cases on sociological and psychological factors as they relate to the education of the child in the public schools.

But if the people are to make sure that the problem will be handled as they wish, they will have to seek a constitutional amendment. This would insure them, for example, refunds in taxes or tax credits so they could send their children to private schools that teach religion or to public schools where "released time" during school hours would be granted to children of particular faiths, who would be taught in public school buildings by their own religious instructors.

It will be noted that the New York City Board of Education, in its six-point program to combat crime in the schools, says that, in the community's efforts to solve the problem of juvenile delinquency: "There is no substitute for the principles of religion and morality."

Two Wings-Same Bird

By Raymond Moley

The new proclamation of aims by the British Labor party shows an almost exact parallel with the aims of the Democratic-Labor alliance here. The slight difference is what makes the close identity all the more obvious.

This ought to be the real answer to the question so often asked here: "Will Reuther, et al., form a labor party?"

My answer to that is not "Never," for I am unwilling in this world of chance to say that world. But I should say that it would be strange if a group—which over the nation is in firm possession of a party with traditions, a name and whatever good will is involved—flouted a new name which might excite and repel the great number of people who call themselves "liberal" and who are not in the labor movement, as well as those who by habit and tradition like to call themselves Democrats.

During the 25 years since President Roosevelt proclaimed a New Deal, the objectives of American liberals have become fairly well formulated and understood.

THE RESULT is that these objectives have become almost identical with those of the British Labor party, which likes to call itself "socialist."

Let us examine the new and beautifully printed manifesto of Hugh Gaitskill's party entitled, "The Future Labor Offers You."

First comes the home. The Labor party wants controlled rents. That is an old story in many places in the United States, including New York.

It would lend for homes at low interest. We have it.

It would clear slums. We are at it in a big way. Moreover, the aims of the new Congress as well as those of the AFL-CIO and the ADA all propose housing of all sorts, with government loans and subsidies.

"Labor offers" full employment. This was the full-throated cry of Democrats all over the United States in the recent campaign. Only in the United States the liberals would provide full employment at government expense. The British manifesto doesn't go that far.

In education the British Labor party would set up a Royal Commission to look into education. We have had our White House Conference and many committees and commissions at work.

In health and medicine, the British have a national health service. The Labor party thinks it is a "boon to the nation."

There are many who think otherwise. But when you add up the Democratic liberals' aims and those of the AFL-CIO, you would have something very close to it.

IT IS MOST interesting that the Labor party backs completely away from price controls. But the net of the advice of economists such as Galbraith and Keyserling, who are the intellectual guides of the Democratic-Labor alliance, is to try that as a cure for inflation.

Pensions and old-age assistance. We have them and will get more. So do the British, and the Labor party would give more.

Only on nationalization would the British prototypes of our "forward-looking" go a bit further. But their proposal is milk and water compared to their attempts when they were in power. It simply didn't work. And so they would not go beyond restoring steel to "full public ownership" and restore "road haulage" to public ownership. So far as steel is concerned, the government still owns nearly half of the industry in Britain but private owners control it. So far as "road haulage" is concerned, consider the uproar by Hoffa and other unions if such a thing were tried.

They know that it is one thing to use terrorism, sabotage, and racketeering against defenseless owners here, and another to try such practices against the government of the United States.

And so we have a parallel between our leftists and those over the seas. Why should anyone want a labor party? We practically have it, nicely labeled, as it is.

The power of sight is one of the matchless wonders of nature. Some ten times a second—36,000 times an hour—an image can be received by your eyes, interpreted in any of 150 colors, flashed to the brain, and made the basis of instant commands to any of a thousand muscles of the body.

The Once Over

Our worldwide scout, in charge of investigating six- to eight-hour chats, wires, what he says, is the first recording of the Sen. Humphrey-Nikita Khrushchev talk:

Hubert: Thanks for agreeing to a good long talk.

Nikita: If I'd known you were coming I would have baked a day-and-night upside-down cake.

Hubert: I always say there are two types of talkers—the sprinters and the long distance.

Nikita: I am informed by my clockers that you are the distance type.

Hubert: Clockers?

Nikita: Yes; they keep track of the time of the world's best distance talkers. Their report shows you have remarkable form. I think I should get a handicap.

Hubert: You mean like in horse races and golf?

Nikita: Surely. I'm a long talker, too, but from what I hear you should spot me about 50,000 words on the morning round and say 40,000 in the afternoon.

Hubert: Anything for world peace, even if it takes my last ounce of oratory. Remember, I talk faster, but you talk louder.

Hubert: (After the first four hours.) Where are we?

Nikita: That will take another half-day to determine. Shall we pause for lunch?

Hubert: You mean you can't talk while eating!!!

Nikita: (1 p.m.) We're just warming up. I have a secret for President Eisenhower. Want it now or around sunset?

Hubert: Let's have it now and we can talk about it the rest of the day.

Nikita: I have a guided missile that goes twice around the earth before hitting the target. I believe I can lick the world.

Hubert: That's a SECRET!!!

Nikita: No sarcasm or I may lose my patience and cut this chat down to seven hours. I have another secret for Ike. I intend to make West Berlin a free city.

Hubert: That's no secret. You made that threat two weeks ago.

Nikita: You'll have to excuse me. I make so many threats I get mixed up a little. Who's ahead in this conversation anyhow?

Hubert: I have never finished second in any talkathon.

Nikita: If I lose, I demand a return bout. Can I get it?

Hubert: If I get the publicity I expect from this talk, I'll insist on it.

Finances

The additional revenue from the income tax was a big factor in helping both the general fund and the street department fund finish the year in the black, Willshaw commented.

Money for major expenditures came partly from income tax revenue, relieving the strain on ordinary sources of income that would have borne the brunt, he said.

In addition, more money was released for expenditures when the administration did not go ahead with some of its planned capital improvements because of uncertainty over the outcome of the income tax issues, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence explained.

Retaining the 10 per cent pay increase for city employees will cost about $35,000 in 1959, all but wiping out the additional $37,000 the city expects to receive next year because of the reduction in debt requirements. Debt requirements represent the money the city must set aside—even before operating expenses are appropriated—to meet principal and interest that will fall due in the following year on its outstanding bond issues. The debt requirements have been cut because bonds have been retired steadily in the last few years and new debt has been incurred, Willshaw said.

Generally speaking, a city's available operating revenue rises by the same amount its debt requirements drop. But as long as bonds are outstanding, law requires money to be set aside for the principal and interest before a penny is sent on to the city.

Retaining the 10 crossing guards to the end of the school year will cost approximately $2,500. The part-time workers earn about $15 weekly. The guards were to have been laid off, effective yesterday, when schools started their Christmas vacations. The guard program was reinstituted last fall with funds derived from the income tax.

Retaining the 3 firemen and 4 police for the first half of 1959 will cost a total of about $14,000—$6,000 for the salaries of the firemen and $8,000 for the policemen.

At the outset of the discussion, when it became clear the city would be able to retain some of the workers scheduled for furlough, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti recommended retaining the three firemen.

Otherwise, he said, the force would be so short-handed it would be necessary to close two of the three outlying stations—probably those on North Side and Pleasant Heights. He said he had been prepared to make that recommendation if the fire department personnel was cut.

Although Dog Warden Anthony Caprarulo is scheduled to be furloughed Dec. 31, he apparently will be transferred to the street department payroll. The mayor said the department has 23 men, one short of its normal complement, and he expects to name Caprarulo to the vacancy.

The mayor commented that the warden "has proved to be a good worker."

700 Attend 13th School Concert

Some 700 persons attended the 13th annual Christmas concert by the East Liverpool High School choir and orchestra Friday night in Memorial Auditorium.

Mathews and Allen each received a portable radio as a gift. The presentation was made by Jim Clunk, president of the Senior Choir, and John Starkey, vice president.

The program closed with the orchestra playing "White Christmas" and the choir and audience singing "Silent Night."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Sandman Came First

She thought she'd wait up for Santa. The sandman came first. But she'll have no regrets when she wakes up tomorrow. Christmas is so wonderful, it doesn't really matter whether you heard the reindeer's hoofs on the roof or saw the jolly old elf open his pack. Like the heart of Christmas, it's not important that we weren't at Bethlehem... we didn't see the star... we didn't kneel at the manger. We can even erase the years when Christmas has found us tangled in tinsel and asleep to God.

For Christ is born! The hopes and fears of all the years have melted into one eternal Truth.

A gift is ours when we awake to discover it, reach for it, cling to it.

The Christ men worship in their churches and homes is God's gift to you and me.

Chester Captures Third Straight, 54-47, Over Rochester

Midland Jolts McKees Rocks, 60-43, To Stay Unbeaten

Panthers Hit Foul Shots To Stay Unbeaten

By CHUCK CRONIN
Chester High's hustling cagers, in continuing their domination over Rochester, cashed in at the foul stripe to sew up their third straight victory and remain unbeaten, 54-47, Friday night at Chester.

Although winning by only seven points, the final outcome was never in doubt as the Panthers displayed too much all-around class for winless Rochester.

It was the sixth straight defeat for the Beaver County squad, which never has beaten Chester since the two schools began playing in the early 1940's.

Disorganization on Rochester's part led to 23 personal fouls, which helped decide the final outcome. Chester was awarded 31 free throws and made 20. Rochester received 21 foul shots and made 13. Field goals for the two squads were even at 17 apiece.

Coach Max Tuttle's star pupil, senior guard Dave Brookes, took advantage of Rochester's loosely-knit defense to dump in seven field goals and seven of 10 foul shots for 21 points and game scoring honors.

Brookes, a southpaw guard, boosted his point total for the season to 52 in three games, an average of 17.1. Last night's outburst was the second time he finished in the double figures, having collected 25 in Chester's opener against Beaver.

Only one other Panther — forward Frank Kenny — finished in double figures. Kenny hit three goals and five for seven foul shots for 11.

Bob McMahon, improving his foul shooting eye with every game, got one field goal and hit six of nine foul shots for eight points. Center Bill Myers, troubled with fouls, sat out most of the second half and scored seven points. Bob Shaffer chipped in with five and Johnny Steele had one goal.

Three cagers on Rochester's squad led its attack with Bill Beitsch on top with 13 points. Paul Hagerty finished with 10 and Bob Mattern 11.

Lack of a clutch man who could hit with consistency was Rochester's downfall, along with a ragged defense. Three on the squad stood six feet or over, but none was an outstanding rebounder.

Chester wasted no time in forging to the front early in the first quarter. The Panthers had a 5-0 lead before Rochester scored its first field goal with 3:35 left in the period.

Both squads were off in shooting from the floor and each posted almost identical 27 per cent averages. Chester hooped 17 of 63, and Rochester 17 of 62.

After the Panthers had posted a 16-8 first quarter lead, Rochester rallied midway in the second period to narrow the gap to 20-18. But that was the closest the visitors could get.

Each time the lead dwindled, Brookes boosted Chester's margin with foul shots and an occasional bucket. He scored most of his points in the third period when he chalked up three field goals and four consecutive foul shots.

While most other district squads are now idle until after the Christmas holidays, Chester has two more opponents to whip to be able to enter the new year with a clean record.

The Panthers entertain South Side (3-3) next Tuesday night—their fourth straight at home. The final December game is with Killbuck, Dec. 26, also at Chester.

In the preliminary, the Chester reserves lost their third straight of the season, 33-23, to the Rochester jayvees.

The younger Panthers were in contention only until the third quarter which ended 23-23. Chester failed to score in the fourth period, while Rochester was adding 10 points to its total.

Pep Daugherty led the scoring for Coach Dom Amedeo's reserves with seven points. Mike Elliott and Jim Eberhart were next in line with four each. Winters' 12 was high for the winning five.

MOUNTAINEERS GAIN FINALS. West Virginia's high-scoring guard Bob Smith (21) drives past Oklahoma State's Dennis Walker during the opening game of the University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament Friday night at Lexington. West Virginia, Kentucky Paired In Tourney Finals

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The battle lines are forming early this college basketball season and, with pairings like Kentucky-West Virginia, North Carolina-Northwestern and Auburn-Alabama, the sport has itself a tidy Saturday program coming up.

West Virginia, which used the Kentucky Invitation Tournament as a springboard to the No. 1 national ranking a year ago, meets host Kentucky in the current renewal at Lexington. North Carolina and Northwestern, both unbeaten in the Blue Grass Tournament finals at Louisville, and the Auburn-Alabama match is for the championship of the Birmingham Classic.

Coupled with another heavy round of major school inter-sectional play and the reappearance of Oscar Robertson and his top-ranking Cincinnati Bearcats (they seek No. 5 against St. Louis), there's plenty to whet the appetite of even the most exacting basketball fan.

He nearly had his fill Friday night with eight of the AP's top in action together with most of the hopeful challengers.

West Virginia, No. 7, hitting 76.2 per cent from the field in the first half and 54.9 for the game, overwhelmed Oklahoma State 67-49 and Kentucky, No. 2, despite the illness of regulars Don Mills and Billy Ray Lickert, thrashed Ohio State 95-76.

North Carolina, with Lee Schaffer whipping in 24 points, toppled disappointing Notre Dame 81-77 and Northwestern, matching the Tar Heels' 4-0 record, beat host Louisville 73-66 in the Blue Grass.

Auburn's winning streak, longest among the major schools, rose to 15 in a 70-47 romp over Wyoming in the Birmingham Classic before Alabama clipped previously unbeaten Texas A&M 66-62.

In other tournaments, The Citadel (78-52 over Georgia) and Miami of Florida (85-79 over Florida State) made it to the title game of the Citadel Invitation at Charleston, S.C., and Catawba and Troy (Ala.) reached the Stetson Invitation wrapup. Catawba beat Birmingham Southern 86-69 and Troy eliminated Stetson 68-63.

Along with Kentucky, Auburn, North Carolina and Northwestern, five other teams extended their perfect records in the bustling Friday action while four others besides Texas A&M were dumped from the all-winning class.

Mississippi State, with Bailey Howell scoring 31, coasted over Morehead (Ky.) 87-63 for its seventh straight, and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia — maybe the East's best — made it 6-0 by downing Kansas 67-65 in overtime. That one came as part of a double-header at Manhattan, Kan. before Kansas State, behind Bob Boozer's 19 points, recorded North Carolina State's first loss in six starts, 69-67.

Xavier of Ohio, defending NIT champ, rallied behind Hank Stein's 15 points in the second half for its fifth straight — nine overall — 80-68 over previously unbeaten Seattle. Niagara is 5-0 after a 72-71 squeaker over Kent State and Cornell stands 4-0 after surprising Syracuse 77-74.

Southern California and Muhlenberg suffered their first losses — the Trojans to Oklahoma 60-50 and the Mules 52-51 to five-time loser Temple as Bill (Pickles) Kennedy hit with a jump shot with five seconds left.

Gene Estes' 30-footer with four seconds remaining for Tulsa beat Arkansas 54-52 and Texas Tech, with an afternoon national TV date today (NBC) against Missouri, warmed up with a 73-60 decision over Louisiana State.

The Pacific Coast Conference swept a doubleheader from the Big Ten at Madison, Wis., with Washington topping the host Badgers 62-48 and California, now 4-1, defeating Iowa 71-52. Indiana recovered a little conference prestige, nipping Oregon State on the West Coast, 57-53.

Brigham Young, 5-1, whipped Santa Clara 80-59, Montana won its first in six tries 53-43 from Washington State, and St. Mary's of California edged Utah 75-73 in other Western features.

Waits Mailing Report

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Postmaster Sam Verlenich Jr. is waiting to learn whether residents here are early or late with this year's Christmas mailings. It could be either way, he said Friday after he sent 42 extra postal workers home three hours early because work did not reach anticipated volume.

U.S. Clinches Finals Spot In Davis Cup Play

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Hamilton Richardson and Alex Olmedo chopped down Italians Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola, 7-9, 6-4, 13-11, 7-5 today to set the stage for the 15th consecutive United States-Australia Davis Cup Challenge Round.

The doubles victory over the Italians gave the U.S. team a 3-0 lead over Italy in the best-of-five interzone final and makes Sunday's final two singles matches mere formalities.

In fact, American Captain Perry Jones indicated he would substitute Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz for Richardson and Olmedo. He said he wanted to send Richardson and Olmedo — who now appear to have clinched the Challenge Round assignments — to Brisbane.

The Challenge Round is scheduled for Brisbane next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Valdes Ready To Risk 'Pro' Championship

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Valdes, proclaimed "pro" heavyweight champion of the world by his manager, is ready to give Floyd Patterson, the "amateur" champ, a crack at his title.

Nino's kingdom was so private that only he and his manager, Bobby Gleason, were believers

District Basketball
Today —
Canton McKinley at East Liverpool

until Friday night. Then he converted Pat McMurtry of Tacoma, Wash., a TKO victim in 2:39 of the first round at Madison Square Garden.

As Gleason already had crowned the hulking Cuban in mid-week, he chose to be magnanimous in victory. "We want to be fair," he said with tongue in cheek. "If Patterson wants to fight us, we'll give him the first crack at our pro championship. Patterson is just the amateur champion."

Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, chose to ignore Gleason.

If D'Amato had agreed, Patterson would have fought Valdes Dec. 12 in Madison Square Garden. The match was on and off for weeks before it finally fell through.

George Raft and associates have sent D'Amato an offer of a $400,000 guarantee to defend in Havana in February. Although no opponent was named at the time, Valdes obviously would be the man for Cuba.

"Sure, I'm considering it," said D'Amato. "When a man offers that kind of money you consider it."

As for Gleason and Valdes they are ready for anything. "If Patterson don't want us, we'll fight Ingemar Johansson, the Swede," said Gleason. "Or Brian London or Henry Cooper. We'll fight them all in one night and it wouldn't last six rounds."

"Me fight anybody," said the 34-year-old Valdes. "Me want to fight champion."

At times during his 64-bout career, Valdes has been a reluctant dragon. Not this time. With 25 pounds in weight (Valdes 213, McMurtry 188) and reach and snarl on his side, big Nino was a shining tiger.

"Me no tiger, me assassin," bubbled Nino. "Me keel Patterson twice."

"Twice? Why twice?" somebody asked.

"One for title — and one just for me."

Raiders Lose By 73-To-40

NEW CUMBERLAND — Husky Jim Presley, a 6-3, 200-pound plus center, poured in 24 points here Friday night to lead Brilliant High to a 73-40 victory over New Cumberland High School's Blue Raiders.

It was New Cumberland's fifth loss of the season and the second time this week that the Raiders failed in a bid for their second victory.

Presley, an All-Eastern Ohio fullback, hit for 10 field goals and four of five foul shots to spark the victory of the Jefferson County school. Kessler helped out in the attack with 17 points.

Bill Freshour led New Cumberland's scoring with 17 points. High-scoring Phil Cullen mustered only two after hitting in the double figures several times this month.

Brilliant also won the reserve preliminary, 27-23, over New Cumberland's reserves.

Browns, Giants To Lure 72,000

NEW YORK (AP) — For the third and positively last time, the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants meet Sunday for the Eastern Conference title of the National Football League.

Beating Cleveland once a year is more than most clubs can handle. The Giants already have done it twice despite the tremendous power running of Jimmy Brown. Now they must do it a third time — or else.

Yankee Stadium will be bulging with a sellout crowd of 72,000 to watch the league's best defense again collide with Brown, the best ground gainer in league history.

Only the weatherman can spoil the party and he promises to be on his good behavior. Good, that is, compared with last Sunday when snow turned the Stadium into a Christmas card setting. They say it will be clear and cold with the highest thermometer reading around 24 degrees. The field is in fairly good shape.

The only tickets left are the 12,000 bleacher seats and 5,000 standing room positions that go on sale Sunday morning at the Stadium.

Television (CBS) will carry the game to all corners of the nation except for a blackout of the New York area. Game time is 2 p.m. (EST).

The winner goes into the rich championship playoff, Dec. 28, against the Baltimore Colts. As that game will be played in a big ball park, either New York or Cleveland, and the players get 70 per cent of the gate, including the $200,000 TV money, a winning share should be over $4,500.

The Giants' sturdy defensive unit is hale and hearty, ready to take another shot at stopping the fabulous Mr. Brown. But the offense is crippled.

Alex Webster, the club's leading pass catcher and runner in last Sunday's 13-10 victory, didn't even work out Friday. Both knees are damaged, but he probably will be in there as long as he can hobble.

Jack Stroud, a regular tackle, didn't play last week and isn't due to start. Al Barry, a regular guard, has an infected toe, but probably will play. Buzz Guy, a handyman guard or tackle, is out with a chipped bone in his ankle.

To cap it all Pat Summerall, whose 49-yard field goal beat the Browns last Sunday, has been bothered all week by a leg injury.

Chuck Conerly's passing beat the Browns in Cleveland Nov. 2 when he threw for three touchdowns in a 21-17 game. It probably will be Conerly chucking again as the main threat of the Giants' offense.

Cleveland's bread and butter game all season has been Brown's strong running and the field goals of Lou Groza. Milt Plum passes only enough to take the pressure off Brown, although he has a talented receiver in Ray Renfro. Coach Paul Brown has indicated he may do more throwing this week.

If the score is tied after regulation time, they will keep going to a sudden death ending. The first team to score a point will win. Because of this factor, the books are quoting no points this week. In man-to-man betting the Giants are 11-10 favorites.

United Whips Augusta For Fifth Win, 69-51

United High's Golden Eagles, sailing along unbeaten this season, rolled over Augusta, 69-51, Friday night at Augusta for their fifth consecutive victory.

Four of United's cagers hit in the double scoring figures as Coach Bob Penrod's well-seasoned five swamped Augusta with a 29-goal attack.

Husky Jim Summer hooped 19 points to lead United's scoring, while Pike had 13, and Lindsey and Frank Shagnot 10 each. Summer and Shagnot, a 6-4 center, combined for a total of 21 rebounds for the winners.

It was Augusta's seventh defeat against one victory this year. Penrod used his reserves freely in the final period. Which took scoring honors for the game for Augusta with 26 points.

Augusta won the reserve preliminary, 31-29. Bill Taylor's 10 points were high for United. The Eagles face Irontide Dec. 30 in their next contest in a game that was postponed because of bad weather. It will be played at the Irontide court.

Lisbon Upsets Carrollton To Gain First Win, 50-49

Lisbon High's Blue Devils pulled off one of the major upsets of the young cage season Friday night by bumping visiting Carrollton from the ranks of the unbeaten, 50-49, on Chal Thorne's driving layup in the last eight seconds.

Carrollton had won four in a row over Scio, Dennison, Newcomerstown and Uhrichsville before last night's surprise.

Thorne's game-winning shot came with Lisbon trailing by only one point, 49-48. Carrollton had trailed at each quarter mark, but had roared back in the final period to capture the lead with about a minute left in the game.

It was Lisbon's first victory of the season after losing two straight to Wellsville and Goshen. While Thorne was the hero, Bob Pike led the Lisbon attack with 19 points. Paul McLaughlin was second with 12. Pothorski sparked Carrollton with 17 points.

The Carroll Countians managed to salvage the preliminary attraction by 51-47 over Lisbon's reserves.

Smith, Lake Lead Scoring In Fifth Win

McKees Rocks joined the ever growing list of Midland High's basketball victims as the Leopards topped a slow first half with a sudden surge in the final two periods that led to a 60-43 triumph Friday night at McKees Rocks.

Coach George Hamilton's Midland five, trailing three points at halftime, uncorked a 36-point second half to wrap up their fifth straight victory in convincing style.

McKees Rocks led 27-24 at halftime, but Midland's defense spearheaded by gnat center Movie Smith and Steve Yetso allowed but two points in the third period.

Smith, 6-4 center, took scoring honors for the game with 19 points on nine field goals and one of three free throws. Junior Gene Lake was second with 15.

Yetso and Smith combined for a total of 29 of Midland's 49 rebounds. Yetso finished with eight points, while Nick Vuckovich and Tom Golpin each collected five.

McKees Rocks was in contention only during the first half. After a 27-27 deadlock shortly after intermission, the Leopards sent 11 straight points through the hoops to begin the landslide victory.

Hetzlein sparked McKees Rocks in its offensive attack by hitting for 18 points, in addition to scoring all but five of the losers' points in the second half.

Midland had another reasonably hot night from the field, hitting 27 of 66 shots for 41 per cent. McKees Rocks tried 55 shots, hit on 18, for 33 per cent.

Midland faces two more opponents before beginning its quest for honors in the Farrell High School Tournament Dec. 29-30. Midland's next game is Tuesday at home against New Kensington, one of the few teams to achieve a victory over last year's crack outfit. The other holiday game is at Beaver Falls, Dec. 26.

In the preliminary, Midland also picked up a victory. D'Angelo sparked the Midland reserves to a 47-41 win over McKees Rocks' reserves by scoring 10 points. Anderson and Oberg each chipped in with seven.

Marshall May Sell Control Of Skins-IF

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Marshall says he might sell out his controlling share in the Washington Redskins if—

He could swing a deal that would net him a lot of money. The new owner would permit him to continue running the pro football club for at least a decade.

Marshall didn't say how much money he'd want, but it probably would take a seven figure sum to buy his 69 per cent interest. He has controlled the club since it entered the National Football League in 1932, first at Boston and later in a franchise switch here.

Marshall told newsmen Friday that more than 20 persons have asked about buying the team over the years.

Beaver Local Given 54-27 Trouncing By Leetonia Squad

Ironedale Wallops Newell Five, 68-34, For Third Victory

Beavers Tally One Field Goal In First Half

By ROB NIBLOCK

One field goal in the entire first half of play.

That just about explains Beaver Local's 54-27 loss Friday night to a hard pressing Leetonia outfit at the Beavers' gymnasium.

Only Thurman Allen of Beaver Local, who finished high for the losers with 10 points, could contribute a first-half basket.

Flustered by the pressing tactics and overall good defensive work of Coach Len Batcha's club, the Beavers trailed 30-8 at the intermission. And in the second half they regained little of the form they had displayed in recording their highest score in three seasons against Newell 33 Thursday night.

Connecting on only 8 of 52 shots, Coach Jack Frontone's cagers finished with a 15 per cent shooting average.

It was the second loss in five starts for the Beavers, while Leetonia evened its record at 2-2.

Captain Chuck Lippitt and Terry Tilley, a pair of hustling guards who finished with 14 and 12 points, respectively, rattled the Beavers early in the contest with ball-hawking, pressing tactics.

Not only did the two pick up several quick baskets for the winners on steals, but they also led a fast break attack which kept the hosts off balance all evening.

Supplementing their outside play was center Gene Leffler, a rugged board man, who was second high scorer for the night with 13 points.

Allen was the lone Beaver to hit for double figures as Jay Grubb, who had eclipsed the school scoring record against Newell, got only one field goal—that coming in the closing minutes of the game.

Subs Tom Taylor and Dick Barnhart had 5 and 4 points, respectively, with Frank Main also getting 4 for the losers.

The Beavers, committing many fouls in the first half, lost center Mike Durbin at 1:03 of the second quarter on personals.

Beaver Local trailed 10-5 at the end of the first period, scored only three points in the second and was behind 41-20 when the third stanza quarter buzzer sounded.

Sparked by Allen and Taylor, the Beavers had managed to outscore Leetonia in the third period, 12-11.

Being consistent in their inability to put the ball through the hoop, the Beavers converted only 11 of 28 foul attempts for 38 per cent.

Leetonia hit 53 per cent of its fouls, meshing 16 of 30 tries.

A foul conversion by Durbin in the opening seconds of the game gave Beaver Local a short-lived lead. On two successful steals, Tilley put Leetonia in front to stay. The Bears quickly increased the advantage to 10-1 before the Beavers could again score.

Tilley and Leffler paced the first quarter attack with five points each.

Leetonia continued to roll in the second period, racking up 12 straight points while holding the Beavers scoreless. Hitting a jump shot to perfection, Lippitt dropped in eight points during the period.

Beaver Local came to life momentarily in the third period, but was only able to narrow the gap to 18 points.

Going without a score for five minutes of the final period, Beaver Local picked up seven in the closing moments.

In the preliminary, the Beaver Local Reserves were defeated, 43-32, by the Leetonia reserves.

Dick Barnhart and Bill Reed paced the little Beavers' attack, scoring eight apiece, while Jim Franko was high for the visitors with 10.

Donald Fraley Hits 23 Points To Spark Win

Irontale High's Irons—reaching their highest point total of the season—swept past winless Newell in easy fashion, 68-34, Friday night at Irontale with sharpshooting Donald Fraley pumping in 23 points to lead the landslide victory.

The Irons raced out to an early lead with a first quarter spurge that left Newell far behind as the Hancock County five registered only seven points in the opening eight minutes and mustered only one in the second quarter.

Irontale led 19-7 after the first period, boosted the margin to 25 points at halftime, 33-8, and showed a 34-point spread after three periods, 51-17.

It was the fifth straight defeat for Coach John Robinson's Newell Vikings. Irontale picked up its third win of the season after two straight defeats last week.

Fraley, a 5-8 forward and one of Jefferson County's top scorers, pushed his season total to 111 in five games for an average of 22.2.

Two other Irons hit in the double figures as Bill Chetock collected 10 and Gale Boggs, 6-3 center, three goals and five fouls for 11. Pete Allen chipped in with eight.

Bob Stine led the Newell attack with 16 points—nearly half of his team's total. Staley and Hutton were next in line with five each.

Stine collected Newell's lone point in the second quarter with a foul shot.

Both teams had a fair night at the foul stripe, with Irontale making 16 of 28 and Newell, 8 of 16.

It was the final game for Newell until Jan. 6 against Chester at the Newell court. Coach Les Douglas' Irons have one more contest before the new year, meeting unbeaten United Dec. 30 at the Irontale gymnasium.

In the preliminary, Irontale also emerged victorious. Irontale's reserves trounced Newell's jayvees, 40-26.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale
One Night In The Inn

It was a very old and small inn near the gates of the city. No one stayed there who could find friends to take him in. Usually business wasn't very good. But two or three times a year something special would go on in town and people would crowd into the city. On these occasions even the inn would be filled. It was at such a time that the old innkeeper was helping a tired traveler stable his donkey. "Full up, tonight?" asked the traveler. "Oh, yes," the innkeeper said, "we'll have to put a straw pallet for you on the floor in the entrance hall. There are four or five other men there now."

Dr. Peale

"I WISH I'd known you were going to be so crowded. I would have tried to get here earlier," the traveler remarked, "I guess this is as crowded as you've ever been."

"Not at all. Sometimes we've even had people bedded down right here in the stable among the animals. Why, once I even had to put a pregnant woman here. That was a long time ago, but somehow I've never forgotten it..." he said reflectively.

"We were just swamped with travelers that night, all clamoring for food and lodging. I was overworked, tired and irritable. A man came up to me and asked for a room. I didn't even look up; I just said, 'No room!'"

"But my wife is pregnant," he told me.

"Why didn't you leave her home?" was my response (which was pretty rough, I guess). Just then my wife came over to tell me that there was a woman on a donkey out in the yard who was having birth pangs at that very moment and that we would have to do something for her.

"That's your wife, I suppose," I said to the man, and he nodded yes. Well, we'd already given up our own beds and the only thing I could tell him was that I'd have some fresh straw put in the stable and they could stay there. So he thanked me and took his wife into the stable.

"IT WAS A busy night, one of the busiest we've ever had here and I soon forgot all about the people in the stable. When my work finally let up, I thought I would get a breath of air before going to sleep, so I went out into the yard. It was a beautiful night and I stood looking up at the heavens.

"Suddenly up there in the sky was the biggest star I've ever seen. Then over by the stable I was surprised to see some camels. I hadn't had any caravans that night; my trade is usually donkey trade, when they don't come on foot. So I went over to take a look and to my amazement the stable was filled with people.

"Naturally, I wanted to know what was going on and I went in. It turned out that the woman had had her baby there in the stable, and I just figured that the excitement must have attracted this group of passersby. There were some shepherds in from the fields and I was astonished to see there some rich men, who, I was told were from far off in the East.

"The baby was a very beautiful boy and those rich men were kneeling before the manger giving him gifts. You might have thought none of them had ever seen a baby before, they seemed so excited. But he was a real pretty baby. We all sort of felt glad. I can still remember how good I felt.

"What happened then?" the traveler asked.

"Oh," the innkeeper answered, "eventually all those people went away and let the poor woman and child get some rest. The three of them, father, mother and child, left as soon as she could travel—for Egypt, I think. It sure was a pretty baby," he hesitated "... the most unusual child I ever saw. I often wonder what he grew up to be."

Toys Still Needed For City Relief Yule Distribution

"There are more requests for toys than we have available," Mrs. Margaret Hickey, city relief director, commented today in appealing for additional used toys for distribution to needy children for Christmas.

Mrs. Hickey said many of the toys are broken beyond repair. There's also a shortage of tricycles, wagons and scooters.

Some parents will take even the broken toys rather than see their youngsters forgotten on Christmas, she added.

Firemen fix the toys that can be repaired but many of the plastic items are not repairable. Stuffed animals filled with washable material are cleaned and dolls are dressed, she added.

Between 50 and 60 children will receive the used toys, she said, and the department has turned over the names of 100 youngsters to the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its "Toys for Tots" program so each will receive a new toy.

Lady Golfer Trying To Match Score, Age

WAYNE, N. J. (AP) — Miss Laura Bonitz is out on the golf course almost every day trying to match her score with her age.

"It's hard," she said. "The older I get, the worse I get." Miss Bonitz, 80, shoots in the very low 100s for her 18 - hole stints.

Religion At Work

By Eugene Carr
The Spirit Of Christmas: What Is It?

The spirit of Christmas is expressed in an assortment of ways. It means many things to many people, not necessarily the same thing to all people.

To some, it is nothing more than a date on the calendar, another day free of work, an interruption to establish routine.

To others, it is a reluctant submission to custom, with no thought given to origin or motivation.

To others still, it is a welcome season of stepped-up merriment, a time of increased tempo in an already rapidly-paced existence.

To the great many, however, the spirit of Christmas is an expression of the better side of mankind as it comes to the fore with a willingness to be seen and appreciated, a desire to see and appreciate.

IN THE GENUINE spirit of Christmas we find:

An entire neighborhood of men, women and children going as a group to the post office to present a gift to their postman.

Doctors and nurses standing watch throughout the day over the life of a little girl, while family dinners wait.

School children bringing their favorite toys to a distribution center so the less fortunate may know the pleasures they have had from them.

3 Fatally Injured, 4 Students Hurt In Pike Accident

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio Turnpike accident killed two young men Friday night and a third died of injuries early today. Four Wisconsin students suffered cuts and bruises in the collision six miles west of the Elyria Interchange.

Dead are Ronald Knier, 20, of Newton, Wis., and Navy Lt. Peter K. Riley, 25, of Spokane, Wash., who died at the scene, and Gary J. Swick, 26, of Milwaukee, who died five hours later in Elyria Memorial Hospital.

Turnpike patrolmen said Riley and Swick were standing behind Riley's car, which had stopped on the shoulder of the road because of motor trouble. A tow truck was preparing to pull the stalled car back on the road when a car driven by Knier skidded and pinned Riley and Swick against the truck.

Treated for cuts and bruises were four other Wisconsin residents—fellow students with Knier at Catholic University in Washington, D. C. and on their way home for the Christmas holidays.
